Being acclaimed as one of the world heritage rivers, the Kwai Noi maintains a variety of pre-historic evidences. Extending from the west forest of Thailand, this heritage river experienced a memorandum of the history of the Thai-Burmese war at the beginning of the Rattanakosin period. Moreover, the river has been widely reputed again during the World War II by the Death Railway and the Bridge over the River Kwai.

The legend of travelling along the Kwai Noi can be traced back 100 years ago from the Royal Visit of King Rama V, which in turn originated the popular Thai classical music of Khmer Sai Yoke. Since then, the Kwai Noi river has been preserving this travelling legend due to its most exquisite and unspoilt landscapes, including the original lifestyles of the people along the river.

On the river side of Kwai Noi, near the astounding Lawa Cave, is the location of River Kwai RESOTEL.
